Canadian Institute for Child and Adolescent Psychoanalytic Psychotherapy

CICAPP STATEMENT

The Canadian Institute for Child & Adolescent Psychoanalytic Psychotherapy (CICAPP) is a training program in intensive child psychotherapy. As part of their training, candidates are asked to quietly observe an infant for one hour a week for approx 20 weeks. The purpose of the observation is to come to understand ordinary development of an infant. Students will discuss their observations in small seminars in strictest privacy. All work is confidential and is meant to help candidates become familiar with regular children in regular surroundings.

Thank you very much for your cooperation.
